

West Coast Academy of Feng Shui

The West Coast Academy of Feng Shui Practitioner Certification

Training Program is designed to give the student a solid foundation in Feng Shui principles for both residences and business. We feature a hands-on approach with an emphasis on cultivating your ability to feel and move energy in physical environments. Classes are kept small to allow for a personalized learning experience. The program incorporates a combination of lectures and practicum's designed to give the student real-life situations within the support of a class-room setting. This program is designed to accommodate students who have full home and work lives. Enrollment is limited, and classes fill up quickly. We encourage you to reserve your place as soon as possible.

Erica Sofrina is the founder of the West Coast Academy of Feng Shui. Erica is a nationally recognized and highly respected consultant, author, teacher, and lecturer with over a decade of experience in Feng Shui and interior design. Her ability to translate this complex art and science into simple, usable applications has brought her international acclaim as a teacher of Feng Shui for the West. Erica is known for a practical and inspiring teaching style that encompasses her engaging personality and wealth of knowledge and expertise.

Erica's educational background includes a Master's degree in music from Notre Dame de Na Mur University. She is a graduate of the Western School of Feng Shui and received formal training in Interior Design.

Erica has authored a book, Small Changes, Dynamic Results! Feng Shui for the Western World. The book integrates the Eastern principles of Feng Shui with a practical Western interpretation. Jean Bartlett of the Pacifica Tribune Review comments, "This coastal author has created a page turner of real and practical gems for those who already know, or are willing to investigate, the fact that our physical environment reflects our inner environment."

Erica helps her students and clients create environments that support, nurture, and inspire their lives. She has mastered the art of transforming the complex into the simple.
